The Bongard Family

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904; paged 141 - 146

"In the days before New York city and the territory of the Empire State were known under their present designation, the commercial metropolis of the colony on Manhattan Island was named New Amsterdam. It was largely inhabited by Dutch Protestants and Huguenot exiles, and among the former was the family of Bongards, to which Conrad Bongard belonged. He lived in New York city, but had gone to Germany and served as an artillery man. Returning to New York he went to Philadelphia, and became a prominent citizen. It was here that he had to determine on which side to range himself in the Revolution. It did not take him long to offer his services to the British, to whom his military experience in the German army made him an acquisition. He insisted on raising a battery of artillery, and was given a commission for this preliminary service, which was an earnest of more to follow. His skill as an artillery officer soon won him promotion, and before long he was in command of his battery, with the rank of colonel. He served throughout the war, and at its close threw in his lot with the such noted United Empire Loyalists as Joseph Allen, who had been a successful businessman in Monmouth, New Jersey, but whose property had been plundered by the Colonials, and who had several narrow escaped on his way to New York to join the band of refugees under Major Van Alstine.

"It was during his residence in Philadelphia that Conrad Bongard married a widow named Carr, who accompanied him to Canada. As a field officer, he was entitled under the government, grateful for his services, to five thousand acres of land. He settles himself at Adolphustown, and as it was usual for field officers to sell grants of land to other loyalists of inferior rank in the army, Colonel Conrad disposed of some tracts of land in both North and South Marysburg. His second son and namesake, Conrad, married into the Dulmage family and cared for his father on the old homestead, where the Pioneer passed away about 1850.

"Although loyal to the British Crown, Conrad Bongard never lost his attachment to the Fatherland. It was more from choice, probably, than necessity that he continued to speak English with no great concern as to its accuracy in any respect; and this was characteristic of his children after many years of association with those who spoke English.

"Conrad, son of Conrad Bongard, served through the war of 1812, attaining the rank of Captain; he drew a pension until his death. His children are widely scattered: John resides at Picton; J. Wilson, at Greenbush; Ezra, at Norwood; William W. at Port Milford; Abraham, at Prince Albert; Conrad, at Toronto; and Jacob, at Utica, New York.

"David L. Bongard is a prominent descendant of the Pioneer. Although still a relatively young man he has been county treasurer for over fifteen years; and for some twenty-one years, has been license inspector, discharging his duties faithfully and well. He ranks among the foremost men, not only of Prince Edward, but of the entire Bay of Quinte district.

"James J., son of Frederick and grandson of Conrad Bongard, married Isabella Ostrander, and with his two sons, Arthur and Frederick, resides on the old homestead, beautifully located on South Bay, which has been in possession of the family since it was granted by the Crown. He has been an active citizen, sitting for some years as a member of the township, council and still takes a keen interest in political affairs, being a staunch supporter of the Conservative party. His children have inter-married with prominent Prince Edward families; the two son, above names, having both married daughter of the famous old pioneer Church family."

Please note that there are a number of errors and omissions in the family genealogy as supplied in Pioneer Life. I have noted these, where found, but should you find any glaring errors, please let me know!

Obituary of Conrad Bongard, Senior (1750 - 1840)
Christian Guardian, 15 April 1840, page 100

"Died, at his residence in the Township of Marysburgh, district of Prince Edward, on Wednesday, January 22nd, 1840, Mr. Conrad BONGARD, Sen. In the 90th year of his age. He was born in Hanau, near Frankfort (sic), Germany, and was in early life instructed by his parents (who were members of the Lutheran Church) in the principles of the Christian religion. In 1776 he was impressed for a soldier and sent to England; never to revisit the land of his nativity. The pain we feel, when first transplanted from our native soil - when the living branch is cut from the parent tree - is one of the most poignant emotions which we have to endure through life. There are after griefs which wound more deeply, which bruise the spirit and almost break the heart, which leave behind them ineffaceable scars; but seldom, perhaps, do we feel more keenly the want of tender, wakeful, and constant affection than when first we leave the haven of home and are, as it were, pushed off upon the ocean of life. To these feelings are added, in the case of the soldier, physical hardships and numerous privations, which were severely felt by Mr. B. in his first days of service and distinctly remembered through life.

"Mr. B., with the Regiment to which he belonged, being destined for American service, was conveyed from Portsmouth to Quebec. He was attached to a regiment of Artillery and placed under General Burgoyne, at whose defeat he was made prisoner at Saratoga. His honesty was strict, almost proverbial; while the advancing columns were traversing fields strewn with the dead and wounded of the enemy and abundant opportunities of enriching himself with the spoils of a fallen foe were afforded, he was never known to appropriate to his own use the most trifling article. He was soon exchanged; continued to serve till the termination of the war in 1783; came to Canada and married in Quebec; obtained lands in Adolphustown where he resided for a time; and then removed to Marysburgh where he lived till his death.

"He was a member of the Lutheran Church while its ministers continued in the country, and afterwards became a regular attendant upon the Methodist ministry, for whose use, in conducting divine worship, he prepared a house which is still appropriated to the same worship. His attachment to religion was always evinced by his liberal support of the Gospel, and his steady attendance upon the institutions of divine worship. But it was not till (some?) time previous to his departure that he clearly and satisfactorily experienced the power of godliness.

"Mr. B. had the satisfaction of living to see all his children walking in the paths of religion. He left nine children, 84 grandchildren and 65 great-grandchildren, in all 158 now living. His widow, in an advanced age, mourns his departure."

Peter:

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904; pages 69 - 71

"The name of Rose is one with which Canadians are familiar. There are various families of the name distinguished in different ways in Ontario; but there is none better known, or more highly esteemed than the family descended from Peter Rose, who settled in Prince Edward County in the early part of the last century.

"Peter Rose knew a time when it was hard to maintain communications with the outer world. Usually in the fall of the year he joined with neighbors, who were hardly near, but far apart, in chartering a small vessel, in which they would set sail from South Marysburg for Kingston, carrying with them the produce of their farms, for which they bartered for clothes, boots, harness, etc. And sometime when they were in sore need of shoes, but found it difficult, or perhaps impossible to go so far, they rested content with some ill-tanned leather from the hide of an ox which their own hands had killed.

"The settlers were to a large extent deeply religious. The expression is used advisedly; not superficially, but in the core of their nature, they were religious, and none more so than Peter Rose. Not wholly, perhaps, but in some appreciable measure to their early training was it due, that the Rose family has taken a leading position in the religious world. At the Pioneer's humble home, the travelling preacher, who had in these times to cover large tracts of country, was always sure of breathing the atmosphere congenial to his pious feelings; a hearty welcome greeted him, and a cherry God-speed sent him on his way rejoicing.

"Peter Rose was politically in unison with his neighbors in cherishing a preference for British institutions, and (though as peaceably disposed as any member of the Society of Friends) as good a loyalist at heart as any among them. And this trait is quite as characteristic of his descendants, as are the religious tendencies which they so markedly inherit. A glance at the genealogy, will show with how many of these old loyalist families the descendants of the Pioneer have become related by marriage. The Pioneer himself, who married twice, had for his first wife, Winnifred Burns, and for his second, Christiana Bongard. And glancing down the long list of descendants, the following are some of the names which will be recognised as standing high, if the expression may be used, on the honor list. These are the Ackermans, the Minakers, the Welbanks, the Scotts, the Dulmages, the Whattams, the Hudgins, the Bongards, etc., a galaxy of worthy and honored names."

William:

The Williams Family, (Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, pages 901 - 906)

"The pioneer of the Williams family in Prince Edward county - William Phippin Williams - was born in the old city of Bristol, in the west of England, in 1766. He put the Old Country in his debt before migrating to one of her oldest and most important dependencies by learning the trade of ship carpenter; and at twenty years of age he put himself behind the wooden walls of a British warship. Those were the days when the bravery of the individual seaman had free scope, and was not engineered and buttressed as it is in modern warfare; the days when the breeze was the only motive power man had learned to harness; the days of flint-lock muskets and fighting hand to hand, stripped to the waist, and when what now would be looked at upon as a very small piece of ordnance was considered a monster of destruction. But the times were stirring to the last degree, and young Williams had his full share in them. As ship's carpenter he ranked as petty officer and had many duties and some privileges not accorded to the ordinary seaman. He went as far as India, sailing the Southern Seas.

"For six years he followed the sea, when he received his discharge, and in 1792 came to Canada. Landing at Quebec he worked for a time at his trade. Tales of the farther west reached him in the Fortress City, and he prepared himself to visit it. First he went propelled by French-Canadians in a batteau to Montreal, camping by night after the fashion of the red man. From Montreal he pushed on to Kingston, where he again fell to work at his trade, and was engaged in the construction of the "Royal George." [in 1812, the largest warship on Lake Ontario. Ed.] It was only a short trip into Prince Edward county, and here he became impressed with the charms not of the district only, but even in a greater degree by those belonging to the daughter of an early settler, Conrad Bongard, who was of German descent, and as an efficient artillery man in the War of the Revolution rose to the rank of colonel in the British army, and joined the United Empire Loyalists, but who prided himself on preserving the customs of the Fatherland so far as was possible. He never cared to speak English intelligibly, and it is remembered by his descendants how Mr. Williams used to tell that the absorbing topic of conversation at the wedding breakfast was concerning the best way to make sauerkraut!

"After his marriage the Pioneer went to work for a time at Clayton, N.Y., but returned to locate on lot 50 of the first concession by the Bay side in North Marysburg. The quondam ship carpenter went into farming with his accustomed pluck and zeal. By and by he had a large family, the ideal of an early settler's family in respect of both being large, and showing an almost equal division of the sexes; and in course of time he had a good clearing and became one of the most successful settlers in the district. He died in 1843. Two of his sons married into the Minaker family; Elizabeth, his eldest daughter, married Gilbert Storms; Harriet and George both married into the Collier family; and John P. married Lucy Cannon. Of his sons, William and Conrad served for many years in the township council. Conrad at one time engaged in the shipping business. This, under increasing years, he relinquished to devote himself entirely to his farm, which overlooks the Bay. Levi, a grandson of the Pioneer, has been Warden of the county; he was also a candidate for the local legislature. Peter W., another grandson, was also Warden of the county.

"Margaret Williams, daughter of the Pioneer, married Ebenezer Washburn Sherriff, who was the youngest child of the Rev. Robert Sherriff, one of the earliest missionaries of Upper Canada. The Rev. Robert Sherriff was a Scotchman by birth and parentage, and belonged to a family which possessed valuable property in both Scotland and Ireland. He was himself comparatively well-to-do, and it was entirely owing to his zeal for mission work that he emigrated and chose Canada as his field of labor. For many years he was a Gospel teacher in the wilds of Ontario, and it was not until his family approached maturity that he settled down near Bloomfield. He was twice married, first in Ireland to Agnes Nelson, a niece of the famous Admiral, and second to Mrs. Mary Adams, nee Washburn, of the pioneer Washburn family. He died universally lamented at South Bay in 1821.

"Alexander P. Sherriff, son of Ebenezer W. and Margaret William Sherriff, sailed for seventeen years as master and mate, and then settled down in Picton, where he followed his trade as carpenter, residing on Gladstone street in one of the handsomest homes in Picton. He married Marietta McCrimmon, daughter of John McCrimmon, who settled at East Lake. Her grandfather, Duncan McCrimmon, was a veteran of the War of 1812, who rendered distinguished service at Lundy's Lane, and received a pension from the Imperial Government and grants of land. His children married into many prominent families and are highly respected.

"Peter A. Williams, third son of William Williams and grandson of William P., was born in 1847 in North Marysburg, and reared on a farm. Since childhood he has suffered from hip disease and lameness consequent thereon, but he has led a very active and useful life. Having mastered the shoemakers trade he established himself in business in Picton in 1876 on Main Street, near the Globe Hotel. Subsequently he acquired several pieces of real estate, including the shop he occupies at present. In 1884 he was elected to the council of Picton, and subsequently served as Deputy Reeve and also as Reeve. Having purchased a farm in North Marysburg he removed to Cressy, and was soon elected Reeve of that township. Later, upon returning to Picton, he was elected to the County Council and also re-elected several times, being chosen as Warden of the County in 1904. Mr. Williams is a good neighbor and public spirited citizen and adheres to the Methodist Church."

Edward Ivan Harrison

He Had Long Been Prominent in Prince Edward

"There passes away from the community of Cressy life on Sept. 2nd, 1920, Edward Ivan Harrison, last surviving son of the late Archibald and Sarah Harrison. He was a man long known in this region as a farmer of competency in farm things and ability in general questions beyond the farm and fireside. Born in 1850 (August 30th) on the farm in Cressy now owned by H.H. Horsey, he was raised to manhood there on his father's place and taught the rudiments of that great industry that extracts from the soil the products which sustain the life of man and beast. He spent most of his three score years and ten on a farm in Cressy. There was, however, an interval of western adventure and enterprise. He took up a section of land near Brandon, built on it, and disposed of the place after a few years stay there. He thereupon settled down in Cressy and lived there with but short interruptions until his death.

"His last years were years of perplexity, struggling for several years against failing health and a peculiar malady of a nervous kind yet with a steadfast spirit full of faith and hope. Two years and three months of this time he spent upon his bed unable to get up. In spite of his distressful physical disability he maintained his spirit of humor and joviality, delighted to talk and visit with his neighbors and to exchange counsel and advice on familiar topics. He was of the temperament that could keep cheerful and hopeful under adversity. And at the very last he met the Grim Reaper with a smile that was frozen on his countenance by the icy hand of death. He possessed a mind of resourceful associations and he retained his mental alertness to the end. He was thus able to guide his farm work from the bedside and to bear up against "a sea of troubles" against adverse conditions that might well have made a lesser man succumb.

"He was a staunch churchman, one of the old guard of Cressy Methodism whose numbers are gradually thinning out with the lapse of years, making way for a new generation to take up the burden that they are laying down. In matters of political affiliation he was a firm supporter of Liberal politics and a great admirer of the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"He leaves to mourn him a widow, Mrs. Ida Harrison, two sister, Mrs. W.Y. Boyd, Kingston, and Mrs. Catharine Hall, Utica, N.Y., also a niece whom he reared from infancy, and being a lover of the youth always he brought up three boys from childhood. He had a great host of friends who will think upon him with affection and regret, and drop a sigh about his grave as he lies in the peaceful slopes of Cressy churchyard."
