

Generation One

1. David Conger #77086, b. 1731 in Piscataqua, New Jersey,¹ d. 1792 in Prince Edward County, Ontario.¹ .

Conger Family

Extracted from "Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904"

"David Conger was born at Piscataqua, New Jersey, in 1731. He was a brass founder and silversmith by trade, and it would appear that after the close of the Revolutionary War he was settled upon a small farm, in Ulster county, New York. Loyalty to the British Crown during the war no doubt rendered his position unpleasant after the establishment of the new government, and in 1786 he came to Hallowell and selected and purchased a lot with a mill site, situated on the Bay of Quinte, and two miles east of Picton. The next year he returned with his wife and family and brought with him irons and castings for a sawmill, which he had in active operation by the close of 1787.

"Conger's next enterprise was to build a grist mill. Until this time the pioneers had to take their corn to be ground to Kingston, and later to Napanee. There are many descendants old enough to remember hearing their pioneer grandfathers relate the hardships and dangers they experienced in getting their grist ground. They tell how they cautiously paddled around the shores and down the river, or shiveringly, drove across the bleak ice, or laboriously trudged on foot with their sacks on their backs. They tell of the loss of life, and the loss of time; of the father's danger in going, and the mother's anxiety until his return!

"The strong religious tendencies of David Conger let him always to bear in mind the interests of his church. He was a sound adherent of Methodism. One of his gifts to that body was a grant of a site on his lot for a church. It was erected in 1809, and is now the oldest Methodist church in actual use in the province of Ontario. << White Chapel >>

"When David settled in Canada he left some property unsold in the States. In his absence, others took possession of it. Years afterward, his heirs endeavored to repossess it; but they failed in their claim, for the interlopers had been in peaceable possession the length of time required by law.

"David Conger did not live to enjoy the fruits of his pioneer labors. He died in 1792, at the age of sixty-one years. His wife survived him by a quarter of a century, dying in her eighty-third year.

"When David Conger came with his family, his ninth child, Stephen, then a boy of fourteen, helped to drive the cattle. He was for over a month on the road coming north. Stephen grew into a man of importance in the county. At the early age of thirty he was appointed a Justice of the Peace, and was one of the first magistrates for Prince Edward County. The duties of the justices were in those days invested with an old-time prestige, and were of an onerous nature. To be selected a magistrate approved the integrity of a man's character and his good social standing in the community.

"Among the duties of the magistrates was that of legalizing marriages. Although many ministers were licensed to publish banns of the contracting couples, they were not legally qualified to unite them in marriage. The contracting parties would appear before the Justice of the Peace, who would perform the marriage ceremony. Stephen Conger solemnized seventy-six marriages between 1803 and 1823. His opinion was sought by persons of every class. He invariably was offered a seat on the bench when the Circuit Judges held assize. It was the custom for the judges to invite one or two well qualified men of the district to confer with them respecting local customs, boundary disputes, waterways, etc. Stephen Conger was also a man well read in subjects unrelated to his rural life, He took a keen interest in electricity when that science was unknown to the settlers, and but imperfectly comprehended by its professors. So intelligent was his grasp of the subject that he perfected for himself a workable galvanic battery.

"By his wife, Mary Bates, he had eight children, seven of whom attained maturity. His eldest daughter, Nancy L. Conger, became the wife of John P. Roblin, M.P. Roger G. Conger, second son and third child of Stephen, became a member of Parliament for Prince Edward County. Eliza B. Conger married Rev. Daniel McMullen, whose son, Harvard C. McMullen, became Mayor of Picton (1904).

"The old Pioneer, David Conger, left many other descendants, and, as a rule, they have been people of prominence in their communities. His son, David S. Conger married Julia Owens and settled in Hallowell; their son Stephen, married Mary J. MacDonald, among whose children may be mentioned E. Marshall MacDonald Conger, one of the publishers of the Picton "Gazette."

"John W. Conger, son of John A., and grandson of David S. Conger, is also a publisher of the Picton "Gazette." Wilson S. Conger, son of Peter D. Conger, and grandson of the pioneer, settled in Peterboro (sic). He was returned to Parliament several times from that riding and was subsequently gazetted as Sheriff of the county. "

William:

Canadian Biographical Dictionary shows birthdate of 17 APR 1836...

"William Henry Richey ALLISON, a prominent barrister in the county of Prince Edward and a surrogate judge of the Maritime Court of Ontario, was born near Brockville, on April 17, 1836. His father, Rev. Cyrus R. Allison, a noted Wesleyan Minister, was also a native of this Province, preached for many years in the vicinity of the Bay of Quinte, and died at Picton, in 1869. The mother of our subject was Eve Hoover, also a native of Ontario, and the daughter of a United Empire Loyalist. She is still living.

"Mr. Allison was educated at Victoria College, Cobourg; studied law with Philip Low, Q.C., of Picton; was called to the Bar at Michaelmas term, 1864, and from that date has been in constant practice in this town. He does business in all the courts, and his standing is second to that of no lawyer in the county. He is well read; prepares his case with great care; is painstaking in all his legal work, and has great influence with a jury, being clear, argumentative, forcible and persuasive. His success at the Bar has been quite mote-worthy.

"Mr. Allison was in the town council many years; was one of the first directors of the Prince Edward railway, which was opened from Picton to Trenton in 1879; is one of the trustees of the public schools, and was appointed a surrogate judge of the Maritime Court of Ontario in 1879.

"His political proclivities are to the Reform side, and at times, during an animated canvass he has done "yeoman service" for his party on the "stump."

"He is an Odd Fellow, being a member of the Grand Lodge of Ontario; and is also a member of the Methodist church of Canada.

"In September, 1861, Mr. Allison was united in marriage with Miss Anna M., daughter of John P. Roblin, deceased, late registrar of Prince Edward county, and for many years a member of Parliament, and they have one son, Malcolm Roblin, who is pursuing his studies in the local schools.

"The father-in-law of our subject mentioned above, was one of those bold spirits who fought the battle for "Responsible Government" in Parliament, and broke up the so-called "Family Compact." His memory is cherished very sacredly in Picton and the county of Prince Edward."
