Family histories suggest that Jacob came to Prince Edward County, Ontario in 1801, and settled on the south side of West Lake, adjoining the Bela Johnson farm. He came from Coeyman's Patent, neat Albany, New York.

The Jackson Family Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte, 1904, (pages 452 - 457)

"Long before the War of Independence the Jacksons were old settlers in Long Island, New York. Jacob S. Jackson married Mariam Searing, and was the first of the name to settle in the County of Prince Edward. He landed at the mouth of a small stream, and there his wife vowed she would travel no further.

"Here shall I live and die," she said; and she kept her word.

"This was shortly after the Revolutionary War. Walter Jackson, one of their descendants, still lived on the old homestead in Hallowell. Robert Jackson is the possessor of a "History of Quakers, 1415 -1717," printed some time in the eighteenth century, which contains an interesting record of the Jackson family. We excerpt a page from this book - probably the oldest one in private hands in Canada today - containing the dates of the births of the children of James and Rebecca Jackson, of Flushing, in Queens County, Long Island, to-wit:

"Thomas Jackson, born 1694; Mary, 1696; Sarah, 1697; Rebecca, 1699; John, 1701; Charity, 1702; Elizabeth, 1793; James, 1704; William, 1705; Hannah, 1706; William (2), 1707; Martha, 1708; Joseph, 1710; Richard, 1711; Phoebe, 1712; Robert, 1713; Jemima, 1714; Samuel, 1715; Stephen, 1717 and Benjamin, 1719."

"Another page reads:

"An account of the births of the children of Robert Jackson and Joanna, his wife, of Oyster Bay, Queens County, Nasseau (sic) Island, and Province of New York: Jacob Jackson, born 1746; Rebecca, 1747; James, 1749; Isaac, 1752, and Robert, 1756."

"Isaac Jackson (b. 1783), the fifth child of the pioneer, served during the War of 1812. He helped clear the land on which stands Fort Henry, Kingston, and assisted in building that fort; he also helped to build the first block house. At the end of the campaign, when he had received his discharge and his regiment was disbanded, he returned to Hollowell. He was granted one hundred acres of land in Peterboro, as a reward to his military service, but afterwards sold the same. He died in 1860, aged 76; his wife survived him by several years, and they now rest side by side in the Old Pettit (sic) Cemetery at West Lake. There are living of his sons and daughters: - Bela, in Hollowell; James, in Picton; Thomas and Elizabeth (Mrs. Judah Hutchinson), in Wellington; Henry, on the old homestead; Edgar, at West Lake; and Isaac, in Toronto. The others moved to the United States and are either deceased or have not been heard of for many years.

"Being blessed with grown-up sons and daughters, life in the bush was softened and labors lightened for Jacob Jackson, who lived for nearly a quarter of a century at West Lake. He saw his grandchildren grow up and settle around him, and he died at the ripe old age of nearly four score years. His wife died in 1825 at the old age of eighty-seven. Many of their descendants are to be found settled in Hollowell township in prosperous circumstances and happy surroundings.

"A great-granddaughter of the Pioneer, Anne E. Jackson, daughter of Bela Jackson, married J. Webster Talcott. (See Talcott Family.)"
